

Primary Sources Activities

This lesson plan focuses on how to analyze primary visual sources like a historian. Students will use photographs and paintings from the Civil War and World War I to help them learn about the time period and how to use visual materials to understand the past. This lesson includes many activities designed to guide students understanding of primary visual materials.
