Abstract

At the time of the 1870 Census, the Maxwells lived in Quincy and the Latshaws lived in Greencastle, both in Franklin County, Pennsylvania. However, there are no married couples of either name in Franklin County in 1870 who are the children of these two families (John Latshaw and his wife Margaret; and Dr. William Maxwell and his wife Ann). The young married couple may have lived in Adams County, Pennsylvania; this could be checked by looking at that county's 1870 census records.

This album of 24 cartes de visite and 16 tintypes centers on the Maxwell and Latshaw families and their relatives, especially the Foltzes and Thomases. Nearly every portrait is identified and some contain notes on familial relationships and residences. It apparently belonged to a family formed by a marriage between a Maxwell and a Latshaw.
