BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

The materials of this collection only deal with Norman V. Lourie's professional activities; there is no information about his education and personal life in this collection.

Norman Lourie was already an acknowledged expert in mental health, child welfare and social policy when he became a social welfare consultant to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1952. From 1955 to 1980, he was an executive deputy secretary for its Department of Public Welfare, assisting in the development of programs which included public health, Medicaid, and family planning; licensing of hospitals, nursing homes and clinics; child welfare and child care; adult corrections, public assistance, aging, and a wide range of other social services. On the national level Lourie also worked to include children in the Community Mental Health Act, and to convince Congress to approve the landmark Title XX legislation as the mechanism through which federal social service funding is channeled to the states. By 1971, he had become one of Pennsylvania's best known representatives in Washington, and in 1975 he was lent by the commonwealth to the U.S. State Department and the National Institute of Mental Health as the top consultant to work in Guam on the resettlement of Indochinese refugees.

In 1978, while still with the Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare, Lourie served as chairman of a group called the National Coalition for Refugee Resettlement, taking responsibility for organizing meetings, mailing notices, and otherwise maintaining the organization. This group was a coalition of state governments and national voluntary agencies which worked closely with Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the State Department, and Congress. Together with Lourie, it contributed to the development of national policy for Indochinese, Cuban, and Haitian refugee transportation, resettlement, cash and medical assistance and social services, and was involved in resolving such issues as language problems and how to handle unaccompanied refugee minors. As a result of these efforts, several other groups were formed to respond to a number of refugee and immigrant problems or issues, such as the Task Force on Secondary Migration, the Task Force on Immigration and Refugee Policy, the Cuban/Haitian Task Force, the Task Force on Fiscal and Programmatic Alternatives and others.

From 1982-1983, Lourie was chairman of the board of trustees and professional consultant for the Community Mental Health and Family Services, Inc. at the Philippine Refugee Processing Center in Bataan, the Philippines, during which time he aimed to generate an awareness of the importance of mental health in refugee matters.

NORMAN V. LOURIE PAPERS
MSS 158

In 1983 he was made senior policy advisor for the National Immigration, Refugee and Citizenship Forum, an organization created in 1982 through the merger of two existing groups: the American Immigration and Citizenship Conference and the National Forum on Immigration and Refugee Policy. The forum's purpose was to coordinate working relationships and information networks over the wide range of issues, interests and disciplines in immigration and refugee matters. Lourie was particularly involved with the forum's Task Force on Immigration Policy and Implementation, which concentrated on questions of temporary foreign workers and employer sanctions, and with refugee admissions and links between national and international communities.

Lourie was widely honored by his peers. His publications on child welfare and general refugee resettlement dated back to the early 1950s, and his involvement in resettling unaccompanied children in the U.S. as recent as 1981. He was named "Man of The Year" in 1963 by the American Society of Public Administration, in 1976 was awarded an honorary doctorate of human letters from Adelphi University, and in 1979 became an honorary fellow of the American Psychiatric Association. In addition to the activities cited above he served as President of the National Association of Social Workers, the National Conference on Social Welfare, and the American Orthopsychiatric Association, was first vice president of the American Public Welfare Administrators, and was an officer of several international organizations.

Norman V. Lourie devoted his retirement to personal writing projects and to spending more time with his family, dividing his time between Washington and his home in Harrisburg.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

Textual Records: Although these materials span the years 1939-1992, actually there are almost no documents from 1939-1961 in the collection. The records consist of agreements, by-laws, correspondence, directories of agencies and membership lists, financial and statistical data, histories, minutes, meetings and agendas, newspaper clippings and print materials, programs and projects, proposals, reports, research materials, resumes and personnel materials. The most noteworthy of the materials is in Series I and Series II which reflect Norman's participation in the resettlement of Indochinese refugees and the shaping of U.S. policy on immigration and refugees, while working for Commonwealth of Pennsylvania agencies and the National Immigration, Refugee & Citizenship Forum. The materials of organizations most prominently represented in Series III include Community Mental Health Services correspondence, newspaper articles and print materials, programs, reports, and research papers relating to refugees and immigration and on conditions in the Philippines. The collection in general would be of particular interest to anyone researching the history of governmental and other organizations involved with immigration and refugees from the 1960s through the 1990s.

The textual records have been indexed; photographs separated to PG 364.

RECORDS SERIES DESCRIPTIONS

This collection has been roughly organized by location and chronology, and then more specifically by organizations, where possible.

SERIES I: COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA AGENCIES, 1962-1982
Boxes 1-3

This series contains the records typical of the collection on the whole: agreements, articles, by-laws, directories of agencies, financial and statistical data, immigrant and refugee histories, minutes, meetings and agendas, reports, and research materials. The bulk of the materials is correspondence--mostly to and from the various of agencies and organizations with which Norman Lourie was involved while he was with the Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare. The news clippings, programs and projects, mostly on Cuban and Indochinese refugee issues, also represent a large segment of this series. Arrangement is alphabetical.

SERIES II: NATIONAL IMMIGRATION, REFUGEE & CITIZENSHIP FORUM
(NIRCF), 1980-1990, Boxes 3-5

Most of the materials in this series are newspaper and magazine articles concerned with immigration policy, the plight of refugees en route to the United States, and the process of assimilation in this country. The most noteworthy of these are immigration policy programs and projects, budget and management proposals, and policy resolutions. In addition, the material consists of by-laws, conference information, correspondence, directories and mailing lists, financial and statistical data, the forum's history, minutes, meetings, agendas, and reports, and the research materials here mostly deal with a chapter by Lourie for a book on victimization and several other of his writings. As above, the materials are arranged alphabetically.

SERIES III: FEDERAL AND OTHER INSTITUTIONS FOR IMMIGRANTS AND REFUGEES, 1939, 1972-1992, Boxes 5-15

This series has been divided into three subseries to reflect Lourie's involvement in the activities of many federal and other institutions specializing in immigration and refugee matters.

MSS 158

SERIES III: FEDERAL AND OTHER INSTITUTIONS FOR IMMIGRANTS AND REFUGEES, 1939, 1972-1992

Subseries A: COMMUNITY MENTAL HEALTH AND FAMILY SERVICES,
(CMHFS), 1979-1989, Boxes 5-7

This interesting subseries covers Lourie's stay in Bataan, the Philippines, and gives a picture of his concerns with refugee mental health, mental retardation, rehabilitation, and public child welfare as he worked at the Philippine Refugee Processing Center. It contains mostly programs and projects related to these issues, including correspondence, minutes, meetings and agendas, newspaper clippings and print materials, proposals and reports. Other records here are: articles of incorporation, by-laws, a history of the organization, and research papers. There are also resumes and personnel materials in this subseries. Arrangement is alphabetical. This subseries is largely the subject of the considerable number of photographs which accompanied these manuscripts. They can be found in PG 364.

Subseries B: NATIONAL COALITION FOR REFUGEE RESETTLEMENT
(NCRR), 1977-1982, Boxes 8-9

This small subseries deals with Lourie's contribution to the development of national policies to deal with refugee resettlement, cash and medical assistance, and other social service matters. Material here includes correspondence, directories and member lists, financial data, a history of the coalition, minutes, meetings and agendas, programs and proposals, reports and resolutions, research papers, a questionnaire and survey. Again, arrangement is alphabetical.

Subseries C: VARIOUS IMMIGRATION, REFUGEE AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS, 1939, 1972-1992, Boxes 9-15

This is the biggest section of the collection, and contains the material and information on immigration and refugee matters collected Lourie largely for reference purposes. The papers from the year 1939 are on the subject of unaccompanied refugee children which includes the evaluation of U.S. policies from 1939 to 1984. There is also Lourie's research discussion on child mental health in this subseries. Other materials cover the most active period of Lourie's career and collaboration with many organizations, and include both Lourie's resume and biographical notes, as well as correspondence, histories, news clippings, programs and projects, proposals, reports, and research papers. Arrangement is alphabetical.
