WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 23.—A monument for Chicago.

John A. Logan may not have been the first, but he was certainly the greatest of Lincoln's friends among the Republicans. He was the last of the old soldier politicians to die. His death is mourned by the whole country.

The monument is to be erected in Lincoln Park, Chicago, and the dedication will take place on the 24th of the month. The statue will be a representation of the great man in his prime, and the inscription will bear his name and the date of his death. The cost of the monument is estimated at $20,000.

The dedication will be made by President Bulwer, who is expected to arrive in Chicago on the 23rd. The ceremony will be attended by a large delegation of the Republican party from Illinois, and the city will be decorated with flags and other appropriate symbols.

The monument is to be a fitting tribute to the memory of this great statesman, and it is expected that it will be a source of inspiration to all who see it.
