

Henry Grier Bryant (1859-1932)

- Henry Grier Bryant was a notable explorer of the Arctic (Alaska, Canada, Greenland)
- He explored the Grand Falls, 1891, and the St. Augustine River in Labrador, 1912.
- Bryant acted as second in command of the Peary relief expedition, 1892, Commander of the Peary auxiliary expedition, 1894, and Commander of the Mt. St. Elias (Alaska) expedition, 1897.
- He was President of the Geographical Society of Philadelphia, the Association of American Geographers, the American Alpin Club, and the Contemporary Club.
- He was also a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society in London.

Primary Sources:

Henry Grier Bryant Papers Collection no. 3192 Collection includes correspondence from 1858-1926 both of a personal nature and regarding his various expeditions and a scrapbook containing photographs and additional correspondence.

Bulletin of the Geographical Society of Philadelphia [electronic resource] Print of a photograph titled "Six Members of the Peary Expedition of 1894." Published 1894 Record Number: 5239 Call Number: Dm .29 Volume: 1 Digital Library link: http://digitallibrary.hsp.org/index.php/Detail/Object/Show/object_id/4586

Henry Grier Bryant appears front, center. Bulletin of the Geographical Society of Philadelphia

Secondary Sources:

A glorious enterprise : the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia and the making of American science-- by Peck, Robert McCracken, 1952-Published 2012 Call Number: QH 70 .U62 P43 2012 Folio

HEAD for the Future is an education initiative by the Historical Society of Pennsylvania in partnership with Wells Fargo.

